Armchair travelers and photography buffs won't want to miss the March 11 slide presentation. Last fall Cindy and Eileen McCarney Muldoon traveled to Southern Italy as leaders of a photography workshop.

"Our goal was to bring people to an exotic part of the world, where, without the distractions of day to day living, they could develop technical and artistic tools while becoming intimate with the culture".

We've asked Cindy and Eileen to share their expertise and experience with us. They promise to bring plenty of maritime photos as well. They'll be answering your point & shoot or SLR photography questions

Both have been professional photographers for over 20 years. They have exhibited regionally, and are the members of several art associations.
